Overview

Tomas Hult

Dr. Tomas Hult is the Byington Endowed Chair, Professor of Marketing and International Business, and Director of the International Business Center (IBC) in the Eli Broad College of Business at Michigan State University (John W. Byington, a marketing research expert, was a former president of the NPD Group Worldwide Inc.). He has been at Michigan State University since January 2001.

IBC is classified as a National Resource Center (i.e., CIBER) by the U.S. Department of Education. His focus areas are global supply chain management, international business, global strategy, and marketing strategy.

Previously, he held positions as Eli Broad Professor of International Business, Professor of Marketing and Supply Chain Management, and Associate Dean in MSU's Eli Broad College of Business - among U.S. graduate schools ranked #22 by Forbes in 2013, #14 among public and #35 overall by U.S. News & World Report in 2014, #36 by BusinessWeek in 2012, and #62 in the world by The Financial Times in 2013. The Broad College is also ranked #27 among undergraduate business school in the USA (U.S. News & World Report 2014). In international business, the Broad College is ranked #16 in graduate and #14 in undergraduate education (U.S. News & World Report 2014), and is top-ranked in the world in international business research in the premier business journals (International Business Review 2010). Michigan State University is one of 62 members of the prestigious Association of American Universities. The Broad College of Business is accredited by AACSB and a member of the Global Business School Network.

Dr. Hult has been the Executive Director of the Academy of International Business (AIB) and President of the AIB Foundation since 2004. He is President and Board Member of the Sheth Foundation, and board member of the International Trade Center of Mid-Michigan (Founding Board Member) and the Economic Club of Greater Lansing. Dr. Hult has also served as the President of the 33-university coalition of CIBER schools in the USA that are funded by the U.S. Department of Education. He is also currently a member of a multi-university team (MSU and Duke University), including multiple colleges at MSU, that received a $5 million grant from the U.S. National Science Foundation.

The IBC is an affiliate of the U.S. & Foreign Commercial Service of the U.S. Department of Commerce (USDoC). Since 2012, Tomas Hult serves on the USDoC affiliated District Export Council. At MSU, Tomas serves on the university's Honorary Degree Committee, MSU Athletic Council, International Studies and Programs Executive Committee, and the Broad College of Business Senior Administrator group, among others. He regularly works with some 25 internationally oriented units on the MSU campus, and IBC has facilitated more than 12,000 firms nationwide going international since 2006 (some 2,000 from the State of Michigan).

Dr. Tomas Hult is a world-leading keynote speaker and executive trainer on global supply chain management, global strategy, and marketing strategy. Interviews with Tomas dealing with global strategy and global SCM can be found on globalEDGE. Some of his business trade books include: Global Supply Chain Management (2014) with David Closs and David Frayer; Total Global Strategy (2012) with George Yip); and Extending the Supply Chain (2004) with Ken Boyer and Mark Frolich. He is also co-author of a number of academic books, including: Partial Least Squares (PLS) Path Modeling (2014) with Joe Hair, Christian Ringle, and Marko Sarstedt (published by Sage); and Global Business Today (9th Edition) and International Business (11th Edition) with Charles Hill..

In research, Hult was ranked the 75th "most cited scientist in economics and business" (and 3rd in marketing) in the world by Thomson Reuters in their Essential Science Indicators covering a period from 1997 to 2007. In a 2012 study by Aguinis et al. (in the Academy of Management Perspectives), Hult was 6th among influential scholars who received their degrees since 1991 (he received his degree in 1995). Based on the Microsoft Academic Search, Tomas Hult is in the top 5 authors in "business administration and economics." His research has been cited some 16,000 times per Google Scholar. The Academia.edu page for Dr. Hult has pdf files of his top articles.

He is an elected Fellow of the Academy of International Business (one of only 83 scholars in the world bestowed with this honor, and one of only 6 marketing scholars), and Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of the Academy of Marketing Science (2009-2015). He has served as Associate Editor for the Journal of International Business Studies and Journal of Operations Management, and currently serves as Associate Editor of the Journal of Supply Chain Management and Decision Science Journal. He also serves on or has served previous lengthy terms on the review boards of the Journal of Marketing, Academy of Management Journal, Strategic Management Journal, Global Strategy Journal, Journal of Retailing, Industrial Marketing Management, Journal of International Marketing, and International Marketing Review, among others.

In fund raising, Tomas has been responsible for raising some $13 million for Michigan State University and some $3 million for the Academy of International Business. A dual citizen of Sweden and the U.S., Tomas Hult has resided in the U.S since 1987 and been at Michigan State University since January 2001. He has also held several visiting professorships, including in the International Business group of his native Uppsala University, Sweden (2013 to Current) and the International Business division of Leeds University, UK (2010 to Current). With a background in mechanical engineering, Tomas worked for AB Uppsalabuss (Uppsala, Sweden) and Holmen AB (Hallsta, Sweden) during engineering school and prior to entering academe. In academics, prior to Michigan State University, he was at Florida State University (1996-2000) and University of Arkansas at Little Rock (1994-1996) - serving as the director/coordinator of international business programs at both places.
